MONNAIE DE PARIS
11 QUAI DE CONTI, PARIS VI
FRANCE

MORE THAN 1,150 YEARS OF INNOVATION AND TRADITION

For over 11 centuries, the Monnaie de Paris, France's longest standing institution, has focused on striking coins as well as the production of metal artistic craftsmanship.

Today, the French Mint strikes currency coins for more than 40 countries in the world and produces diverse metal art objects in its parisian factory.

The emblematic building located at number 11 of the quai de Conti opens its doors to the public since 2017. First and last active factory in the heart of the capital city, the Monnaie de Paris reveals the secrets of metal, its artisans' techniques and know-how and exclusive treasures.

AN EXCEPTIONAL SETTING FOR YOUR EVENTS

The Monnaie de Paris welcomes you inside its majestic neoclassical palace built in the end the XVIIIth century, to live a unique experience on French Excellence, at the crossroads of arts, know-how and industry.

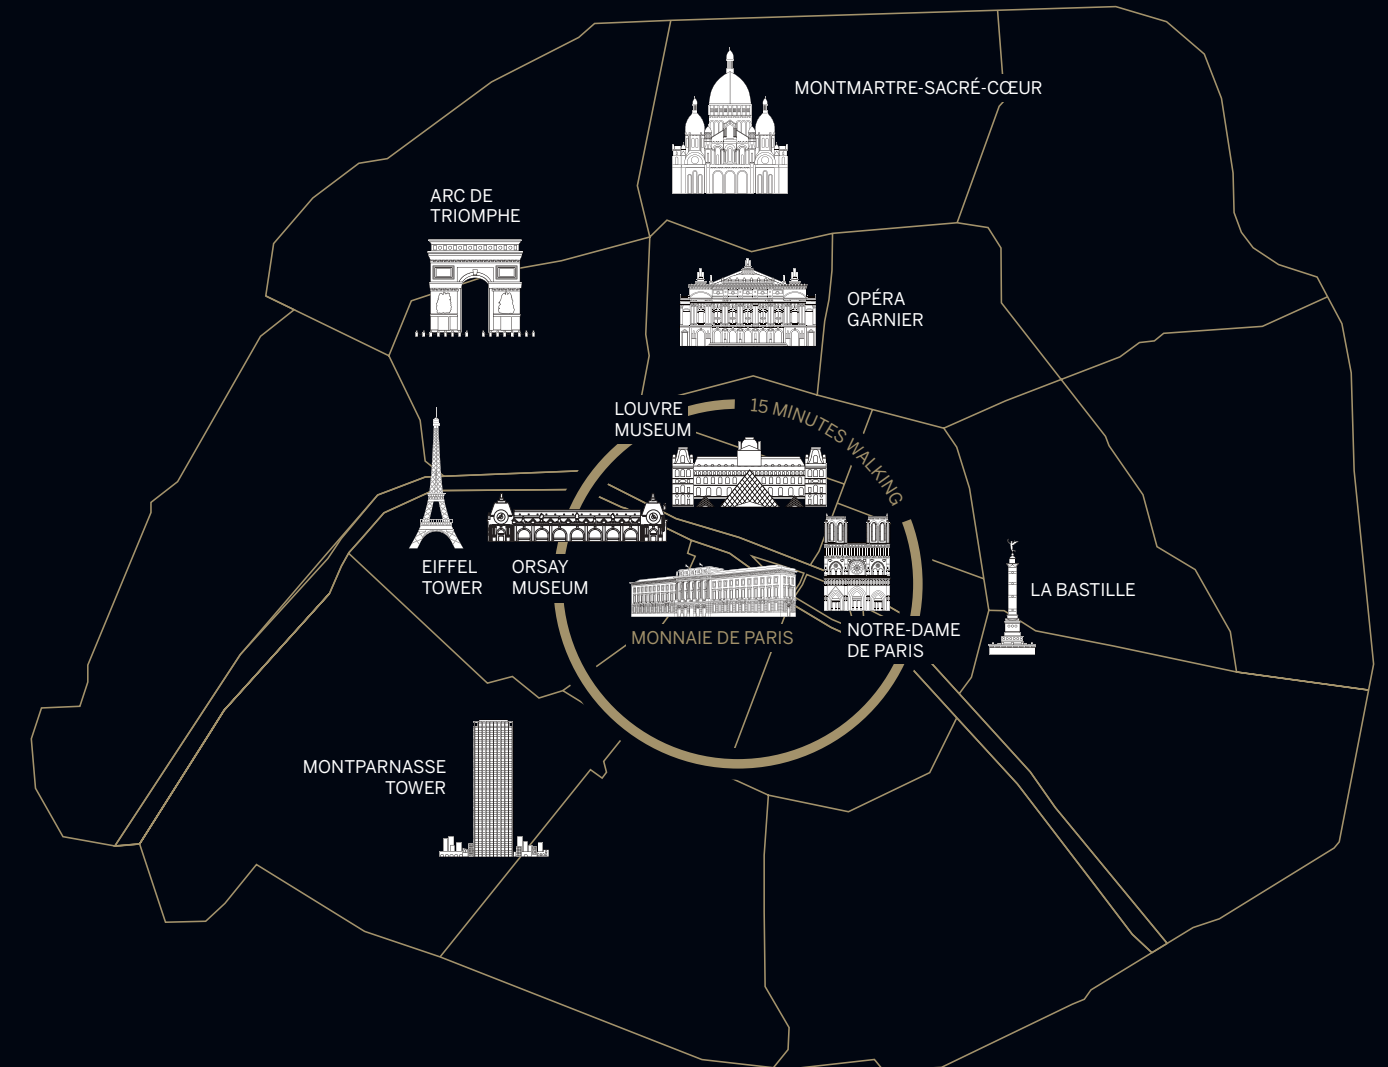

Its indoor and outdoor spaces can be adapted to any kind of event : seminars, dinners, cocktails, conferences, business meetings, fashion shows...

A UNIQUE VENUE IN THE HEART OF PARIS

In the center of Saint-Germain-des-Prés neighbourhood, by the Seine, located between the Pont-Neuf and the Pont des Arts, this splendid palace, its courtyards and rooftop are exceptional spaces in the heart of the historical Paris.

9 000 m² open to the public
5 inner courtyards
11 state rooms

AN ARCHITECTURAL MASTERPIECE

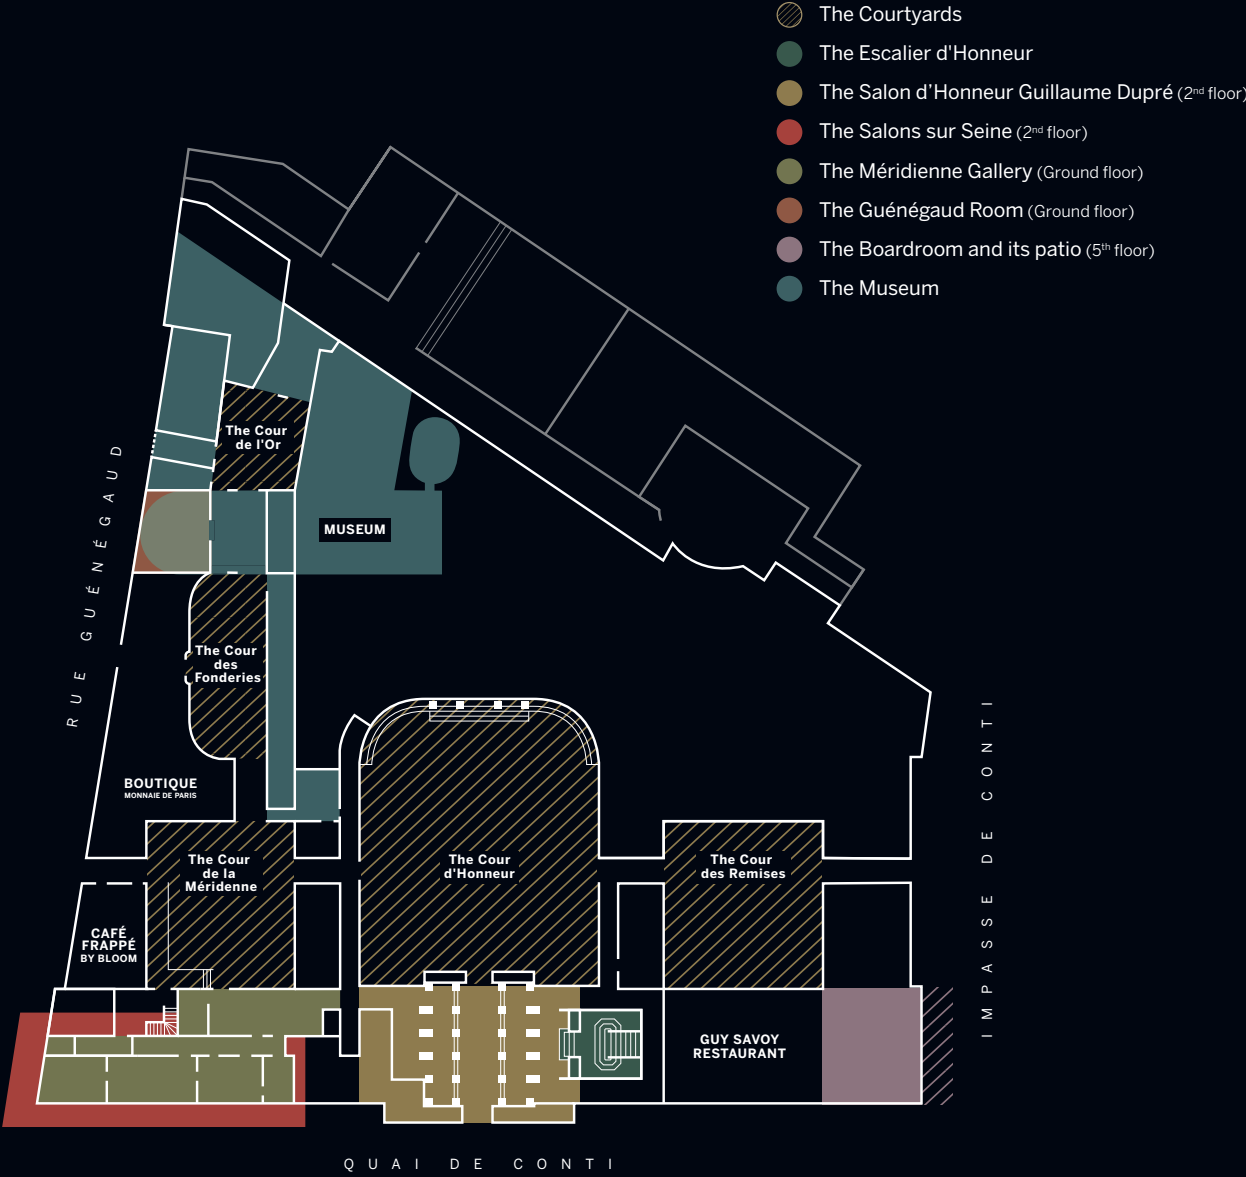

In 1775, under the reign of Louis XVI, the Monnaie de Paris settled at number 11 of the quai de Conti, in Paris' VIth district. The building, one of its kind, was conceived by the architect Jacques-Denis Antoine, combining the grandeur of an Antique palace to the functionality of a factory designed for coin-striking, still active today. The neoclassical building has since been overhauled to reopen in 2017, and reveal its splendour and treasures to the public.

Climb the Escalier d'Honneur to discover the majestic Salon d'Honneur Guillaume Dupré and the succession of Salons sur Seine. In the inner courtyards, gaze at the Méridienne and the ornamental sculptures of the facade, witnesses of the thousand-year-old history of the institution. In the museum, admire the Grand Monnayage and the Fortune statue that keeps a close watch on the production since 1775.

AN EXCEPTIONAL CHOICE OF SPACES

- Vast or intimist, majestic or unusual, indoors or outdoors
- Adapted to all kinds of events : fashion shows, dinners, cocktail parties, business events, exhibitions...
- The possibility to set the space up according to your needs
- Up to 1,000 guests for a cocktail or a dance night
- An exceptional setting in the most historic French institution
